

Preston Coly

"Authentic Texas Singing Rodeo Cowboy"

Preston Coly is the 'real deal' ~ a Texas Cowboy who has the gift of being a good Cow Hand as well as a great singer and songwriter. He, after starting pro at the early age of 18, cut his teeth in the Dance Halls, Beer Joints, Ice Houses, County Fairs and Rodeos in Texas. He moved to Nashville and was signed by George Strait's manager, Erv Woolsey, to a songwriting contract as a staff writer for Muy Bueno Music Group where he spent 3 years honing his talents.

His new album "Hold Your Horses", as well as his hot new chart rising single on Real Country Records -

"Who Wouldn't Want to be a Cowboy" is available on www.reverbNation.com/prestoncoly.

Preston Coly and his band are now available for your event, playing real Texas style country music with a lot of Western Swing as well.
